Anyone know the Oil capacity for the Volvo Penta Tamd 71a engines? I have two on a princess 45. Cheers! Oil change with filter you will need a maximum of 22 litres if it's on down angle gearboxes. If the engine is an early one on straight boxes you will need less oil because you won't be able to suck out all the oil .

The TAMD series is not an engine I would recommend. I had renewed faith in Volvo with the D series and used them in repowers until it seems the computers are failing just outside the warrantee period. Don't know why they are failing and until I can find out don't know wether its design, application, electrical or other issue.

The Volvo is the electronic version with the combined throttle/shift. However, since this is going to be my first twin engine I have no preconceived idea either way and will learn which ever way I am taught based on what I purchase. The boat with the Cummins seems to be in the best condition even though it has the most hours.
